THE MARRIED GENTLEMEN'S HOP LAST Night.-The married geotlemec's hep last night, under the management of Mayor Court land II. Smith and others, was a die ded success in every particular. In response to the following invitation "The married gentlemen of Ai exameria will be pleased to s e you at MeBur ney's if It on Friday night, January 9th, at 8 o'cock," signed by six of the mass prominent cit zens of the city, there assembled about one hundred couples, presenting an array of gree: and beauty rare y ever equalled, and e reamy never surpassed. The music, furnished by M dley's Alexadria hand, the sparkling eyes, the flishing ornaments, the jowelled arms. the reven bar, the golden heir, the branis, the proceders, the thin robes, flusting like e ads. and the fair forms, made up a dizzy clue. "The lamps shope o'er fair women and brave

The married gentlemen have cause to congratulate themse v son their success ast night. but the young gentlemen say they do not inused to allow them to carry off the paim so easily, as they will give a hop on next Friday night that will equal the one given last night.

"TRICKY" COUNTRY PEOPLE -As a general thing when most country people come to a cuy they seem to be ever on the slert to evade 'sparpers' and keep well alo f from ches s, whom they suppose track them wherever they go, and when compelled to enquire the location of a rail oed depot thurst both "arms" in their pants pockets nearly up to the elbow and clinch what ever is contained therein with an iron grip, lest by some magnetism or other his valuables may be 'transferred' ere his question is answered. But occasionally it is demonstrated that some tural tolks need watching and that "for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" the backwoods sometimes produce adepts. has been the practice of unscrupulous country people from time immemorial to gather up the victims of chicken choters, pick and clean them and seed them into cities for sale, and could some plump "quacker," as he lay on a market beach viscerated and picked clean, tell how in 'scouping' in a marsh he had inadvertently swallowed a leech, and how the tenacious occupant of his crop preferred eating his way out to any other made of exit, and how Mr. Q. under the operation, a tale might indeed be untoided which would make our hair stand and render our faith in man very weak. But the most comm on trick among our 'country courtes" is that practiced in the butter market Common firkin butter is invariably printed and sent to mark at represented as being "fresh from the churn," and occasionally cobble stones are found imbedded in tubs of butter. It is also no uncommon thing to find roll "butter" composed partly of sard or mutton tallow, and this morning Mr. Gilbert Simpson was showing prints he bad received from Fauquier county in each of which a vacuum had been formed and filled up with salt.

THE REPORM CLUB.—The Alexandria Re-form Club held one of their largest and most enthusiastic meetings last night.

R-ports from all the committees were re coived showing the club to in a most flourishaz coadition.

Under the head of good of the order Mr. Wm. L. Ives, of Washington, delivered a most interesting address, which was listened to with marked attention, and a vote of thanks tendered him by the c'ab. When the report of the ex carive committee was read, the whole hall, packed full of men to the doors resulty a sort of common impulse, and lang Praise God from whom all bissings flow. The report which will be published on Menday shows that ence the organ zerion of the club, on the evening of October 17th, the number has steedily increased until it new numbers 719 members. The agencies by which the work has been promoted are public meetings, the opening of club rooms, personal work of reformed men, discrebution of temperance literature, organized work,
